The Road We Travel

As our senior year comes to an end, we look back on the road we traveled. We look back with fond memories, to our teachers who guided us on our venture for knowledge, to the underclassmen who have yet to experience the privilege of being a senior. We look back remembering our sense of belonging to that special club, the victory dances after the games, our love for our team who received our support whether we won or lost, and most of all to our fellow classmates, with whom we shared so many unforgettable moments.

We leave all this with reluctance, but our eyes are wide open to what the future holds. Tomorrow offers us bluer horizons to conquer and unknown roads to travel.

We respectfully dedicate this book to the late Uno Suomela whose untiring efforts through the years have enriched the lives of many students.

Gail Forbrig, Debbie Stenman, Queen Ruth
Peebles, Lynne Weidman, and Becky Hillier.

The 1968 Homecoming began with the traditional bonfire around which were grouped the cheerleaders and band who generated the enthusiasm and anticipation of the students for the forthcoming events. At the pep rally, co-captains, Don Ward and Stan Warner were dubbed by Queen Ruth Peebles. The uniqueness of the floats, the triumph over Alpena Catholic and the success of the dance all made it an occasion that will be remembered for years to come.

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

(Robert Frost)
